DRAWN TIGHTER LINE ON BOTH WHEAT AND MEAT

Two wheatless days in every week, and a meatless meal each day; a meatless day each week and a meatless meal each day; and porkless days each week are the new regulations asked for by the United States Food Administration and effective immediately.

Consumers are urged to buy a pound of some substitute flour for every pound of wheat flour they buy. Bakers must make mixed flour breads on a 70 per cent wheat and 30 per cent other cereals.

"These drastic suggestions are to provide enough wheat for export which the allies must have," says Food Administrator Wattles. The new rules and regulations, according to Mr. Wattles, are:

WHEATLESS DAYS—Have two wheatless days (Monday and Wednesday) in each week and one wheatless meal each day. On wheatless days and in wheatless meals of other days use no crackers, pastry or other foods containing wheat, and do not use wheat in any form except the small amount that may be needed for thickening soups or gravies. As to bread, if you bake it at home use other cereals than wheat and if you buy it, buy only mixed flour breads. We must consume one-third less wheat products than we did last year.

MEATLESS DAYS—Have one meatless day (Tuesday) each week and one meatless meal every day. Have two porkless days (Tuesday and Saturday). Meatless means without any cattle, hog or sheep products. On other days use mutton and lamb in preference to beef and pork. Porkless means without pork, bacon, ham, lard or pork products, fresh or preserved. Use fish, poultry and eggs.

SUGAR—Make every day a sugar saving day. Use less sugar, less sweet drinks. Less candy should be used.

SUBSTITUTES—Use fruits, vegetables and potatoes abundantly. Raise all you can for home use.

MILK—Use milk wisely. Use all of the milk and waste no part of it. Children must have whole milk. Use sour and skim milk in cooking and for cottage cheese.

Another Appeal to Americans.

President Wilson has issued another appeal to the housewives of America, asking for further saving in wheat flour, that more may be had to send to Europe. This is but another way of making the appeal to all for every American who eats is concerned in the matter. Our allies in Europe must have wheat, and we must furnish it to them. As our surplus has already been exhausted, together with the saving so far accomplished, it follows that unless we deny ourselves still more we will have none to send abroad. More than ever then, the measure of a man's patriotism lies in what he eats. Self-indulgence at such a time amounts to a denial of all other protestations of patriotic concern in our prospects for victory. Contributions to be voluntary, for no authority exists for enforcing any economy other than the control over the mills. One may eat all one can get hold of. It may be taken for granted, though, that a vast majority of Americans will cheerfully comply with the request that they save more wheat by eating more corn, and that "victory bread" will be adopted, just as every other direct appeal to the people has been met in a splendid spirit of unselfish generosity and devotion. We can all pull our belts a little tighter in the cause of freedom and democracy.—Omaha Bee.

E. D. Murphy and Gus Rongstrater, of Brady, were visitors in town yesterday, as was also Ed Hostetter of Maxwell, and Wm. Robb, of Lexington. All these men had business at the court house.

Mrs. Geo. M. Smith, of Grand Island, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Sizemore Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Danielson, of Sutherland, announce the arrival of an eight pound girl.

WAR EXPERT SAYS THAT CONDITION IS CRITICAL.

A London cablegram says:

The situation on the western front is critical, in the opinion of Colonel C. A. Repington, one of the foremost English military critics, who recently resigned from the Times and became military correspondent of the Morning Post.

In his first contribution to the Post, he criticizes Premier Lloyd George and the war cabinet severely because, he asserts they have failed to maintain the strength of the British armies in the west, thereby creating the present conditions.

The Germans, Colonel Repington says, now have 165 divisions on the western front, or more than all the allies combined, excluding the Italian theater.

The number of German troops is being increased, he adds, at the rate of seven to 15 divisions monthly and may be expected to reach more than 200 divisions as soon as it is possible to concentrate them.

The arrival of some Austrian forces also is to be expected, and news already has come of the appearance of Austrian troops in Belgium.

Remark that the accumulation of this immense force may be either to support negotiations or for a grand attack, the writer says all the evidence points to the impending delivery of a series of great attacks.

Reviewing the strength of Great Britain's allies, Colonel Repington writes:

"The American troops are not coming in as fast as some sanguine estimates forecast, but I feel sure that General Bridges, who accompanied Mr. Balfour to the United States, must have given the war cabinet a pretty accurate forecast. The American army can be only a contingent during the next few months. This is all the more reason why we this year should place every available man in the field."

Larger Tax Levies Coming.

In a statement issued Saturday Chairman Kitchin, of the house ways and means committee, announced that greater tax levies must be made than have heretofore been made in order to meet the expenses of the war.

"The fiscal affairs of the United States indicate," said Chairman Kitchin, "that notwithstanding the large revenue to be derived from the act of October 3, 1917, it will be necessary for congress to provide for greater tax levies. Just what form the new levies will take, or the particular line of business that will be affected, cannot be anticipated. The entire situation will have to be canvassed thoroughly. In view of the apparently unquestioned need for additional revenue from taxes, amendments to the act of October 3, 1917, must be made."

Armour Makes Big Money.

Armour & Co. made a net profit on the packing business in the United States last year of $21,000,000. The volume of business done amounted to $575,000,000. These figures are taken from a statement issued by J. Ogden Armour to the stockholders of the corporation.

The firm's business in products originated in this country, sold both here and abroad, was $50,000,000 greater than the world business of the firm in 1916.

According to the statement the net income was 14.6 per cent on the invested capital.

Orders Millard Hotel Closed.

Because the Millard Hotel in Omaha has been a booze dispensary since the state went dry, Judge Day last Saturday ordered the hotel closed and the furniture valued at $30,000 sold.

The receipts of the furniture sale is ordered turned into the school fund of Douglas county.

The order of Judge Day is made under the provisions of the prohibition law. People generally will commend Judge Day for his drastic order.

Those wanting sale dates let me know soon, as I have dates made for March.

Domestic Sues for $7,717.50

Mary Chambers, by her attorney John Grant, has filed suit in the district court in which she seeks to compel Mrs. Emma Pulver to pay her $7,717.50 for wages due. The plaintiff claims that she entered the services of Mrs. Pulver as a domestic August 1, 1905, and continued in her employ until September 26, 1917, and that her services were reasonably worth $1.50 per day, the total wages thus due amounting to the sum above, together with interest.

Service Flag Unveiled.

At the Lutheran church at the morning service Sunday the service flag with fifteen stars was unveiled. The flag presentation address was made by E. T. Tramp and it was accepted on behalf of the congregation by A. W. Shilling. The young men who have joined the colors from the Lutheran church and congregation are Lee Bird, Will Brobeck, John Burroughs, Will Huxoll, Irving Johnson, Fred Peterson, Francis Sandall, Albin Sandall, Dave Anderson, Zora Anderson, George Hall, Marston Van Doran and Louis Johnson.
